Justin's website (Justinguitar.com) has renewed my passion in learning guitar. He is an excellent teacher. Justin has instructional videos on his website for the songs in the songbook, but it is always useful to have a hard copy on hand to reference while playing. The book is spiral bound and folds nicely, making it easy to read on a table or music stand while you are playing. Also, by purchasing the songbook, you are support Justin and helping to keep his excellent website free to all.

I have no musical ability at all...I can't read music. I can't sing worth a lick. I don't even think I can hum very well. I can barley tell the difference between a guitar and a tuba. However, I can play guitar and ukulele thanks to the method Justin uses. I now have three of his books and a fourth on the way. His supplemental videos (online for free for everyone and anyone) are extremely helpful when I can't figure out a strumming or tab/finger picking pattern. He has a fantastic way of teaching the absolute novice (such as myself) as well as the intermediates and experts (my teenagers--each with more than 9 years of music education instruction). Bless their little hearts--those musically educated teenagers tried to teach this old bird how to read music and it didn't go very well. I am sure they were just as tired as I was when I was potty training them. Kudos to them,they caught on a lot faster to the potty training than I did to trying to read music. Moreover, they didn't give up...like I did. Thank the Good Lord. Anyway--Justin's methods will not let you down. Check out his website and see if it will work for you. Also a quick flip through the viewer will show you what a typical lesson looks like. Keep on keeping on!

This book is great. I have most of Justin's books, and I love his teaching style. The books are very easy to read for beginners and I definitely recommend this book and every product from Justin Sandercoe.

Fantastic song book. You can use it on its own to learn songs or in conjunction with his videos.
