Synopsis

Abel Jin and Delilah Johnson have lived their lives with holes in their souls, yearning for something they don't understand. Until one night Delilah is in mortal danger, and a man who's otherworldly strong and supernaturally fast saves her. Delilah is then cast into a world where fiction comes to life in the form of Abel, her destined mate, a vampire/werewolf hybrid who claims her at first breath as his. But Abel knows the danger isn't done. He's dreamed for centuries that his mate will perish, and he will stop at nothing to keep her safe. For Delilah, she's coping not only with a fantasy come to life but also with a mingling of very different families. Not to mention she has on her hands a man who doesn't understand his true nature and has lived his long life thinking he's a monster. Abel and Delilah together fill the hole that has been clawing at them for decades. But, finally finding each other, it also tips their destinies as the last of The Three. They must unite with the other destined lovers, who, with Abel and Delilah, are fated to save the world. Or die trying.

Customer Reviews

It has taken me several of KA 2014 books to finally admit that Kristen Ashley will no longer be on my auto buy list. I loved her books until 2014. I think she is writing too fast and too formulaic and much cruder in language and sex. I can only hope she realizes that she is slowly eroding her fan base with these, far from her best, books and puts the time and effort into developing her characters more, providing some engaging character angst resolution, and providing mysteries to solve or realistic enemies to fight. This final Three book failed for me for the following reasons:* No romance for Abel and Delilah. Instant love and never ending crude sex.* Very little respect for women in general. The Three women kept getting put in a room somewhere while the men went out to play or fight.* Long boring, no action and repetitive parts to slog through.* What some call biker speak, but I call Fonzi speak, that was excessive and very irritating in this book.* Abelâ™s use of the âœCâ• word made my skin crawl and he couldnâ™t talk without including âœFâ• word.* Delilahâ™s sophomoric monologues of exclamative single or couple word sayings like Oh My God or Oh S***, Uh, Oh, What the F, Oh, Man, over and over just made me want to knock her silly.* Iâ™m kind of tired of all of the 1980 and 90â™s slang. KA needs to try to write a story that sounds like the 21st century.* Repeated unnecessary descriptions of Delilah, the total biker dog.* Way, way too much boring sex between Abel & Delilah. We are told that Abel has a voracious need for sex daily but it was boring to read each of the many days sex scenes so I skipped 90% of them.
